

Empowering the child at risk of parental divorce

The project focuses primarily on empowering disadvantaged groups, specifically children at risk of parental divorce. We use innovative methods to empower children to stand up for their own needs. The project focuses on raising awareness on the needs of such children as well. The project creates conditions for the development and stabilization of interdisciplinary cooperation at the local level, with a focus on state authorities and their empowerment in decision-making processes. It strengthens also the capacity building and professionalism of our organization.

“The project is being supported by the Committee of Good Will - the Olga Havel Foundation from the Active Citizens Fund. The programme promotes citizens’ active participation in the public life and decision making and builds capacities of civil society organizations. It promotes respect of human dignity, freedom, democracy, equality, the rule of law and the respect for human rights including the rights of persons belonging to minorities. Active Citizens Fund came to the Czech Republic in September 2019 with the goal to support CSOs regardless of their size and experience. It is operated by the Open Society Fund Prague, Committee of Good Will - the Olga Havel Foundation and Scout Institute. The Active Citizens Fund is financed from EEA and Norway Grants 2014–2021. With EEA Grants, Iceland, Liechtenstein and Norway contribute towards a reduction in economic and social disparity and the strengthening of mutual cooperation in Europe. One of the important objectives of the programme is strengthening bilateral cooperation between donor and beneficiary states through financial contributions in specified priority sectors. It supports bilateral relations between the donor states Norway, Iceland, and Liechtenstein and the Czech Republic.”
